Brief Report on the 8th Conference, NASLIN

Hosted by Nike, Inc, Beaverton, Oregon, Aug.10-11, 2001

NASLIN conference participants gathered together at the Welcoming Party on Thursday evening to renew friendships and greet new participants.

The conference was held in the Prefontaine Hall on the beautiful Nike Campus. Starting the proceedings was the welcoming address by Mark Pilkenton, Director of Nike Global Events. The featured keynote speaker, Diana Nyad, held the audience spellbound with her tales of early incursions and later triumphs in the sports media business. Matt Naumann and Maggie McNair of Blackwell's North America demonstrated the online acquisition system, Collection's Manager and showed participants how they were also incorporating access to e-books from netLibrary. Next to the speaker's podium was Bob Plapinger of Plapinger Baseball Books who described how a specialized sport bookseller is surviving in the era of the internet. The last session on Friday included a member's round robin where news of exciting happenings in member's libraries was revealed. The evening's festivities included a trip to the Archery Summit Winery about a 45-minute bus ride from Beaverton. Participants were treated to a wine tasting, a tour of the splendid vineyards and winemaking facilities, topped off by a dinner in the cool wine caverns.

On Saturday, Greg Thompson from the University of Utah Library Special Collections started the proceedings by describing the contents of the Utah Sports Archives and how the archives were supported by the University and outside donors. He announced that the Salt Lake City Organizing Committee's archives would be coming to UU's Special Collections. Mary Johnson, the NCAA librarian followed with a presentation centering on all the digitizing work being done at the NCAA that will make the majority of the NCAA publications available via their website. The next speaker, Wayne Wilson, VP at the Amateur Athletic Foundation of Los Angeles, outlined the steps taken and policies considered for producing the digitized resources now available on the AAFLA website. In the afternoon, John Webb, Director of Library Automation, Washington State University, Pullman, examined the various policies and details involved in placing fulltext theses on university websites and regaled conference participants on the chaotic state of e-book access. Linda Wheeler, Director of Product Development at the Sport Information Resource Centre presented an update of all the changes and enhancements to the SPORTDiscus database and SIRC services (see details below).

The rest of the afternoon included a tour of the Nike campus with the highlight - a look at the new Tiger Woods building. The final event, a dinner on the Nike terrace, overlooking their serene lake, featured an inspirational talk by Nike's Katalyst, Kevin Carroll.

NASLIN Steering Committee

The NASLIN Steering Committee held a brief meeting to elect officers. Steering Committee members re-elected Gretchen Ghent as Chair, Steve Gietschier as Treasurer.

Steering Committee members are: Shirley Ito (AAFLA), Henriette Heiny (U Oregon, IISHP), Dave Kelly (Library of Congress), Jim Gates (National Baseball HoF&M), Cindy Romaine (Nike) and Jean Michel Johnson (SIRC)

1.2 Sport Information Resource Centre (SIRC)

SIRCThesaurus

ISBN 0921817509

The formerly titled SPORT Thesaurus (1994 ed) has been updated to 2001, its name changed to the SIRCThesaurus and is available in CD ROM format. The CD runs on Adobe Acrobat Reader (AAR) software that is resident on most computer workstations.

(Alternatively, AAR is freely available from this website:

<http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep.html>.

The SIRCThesaurus now contains over 27,000 descriptors. Features of this new edition include:

- The addition of over 500 new or modified descriptors
- Over 1000 corporate terms have been included
- A special section of over 16,000 Personal Name Descriptors was added
- New "Use" relationships have been implemented in the hierarchical structure. They are "USE OR" and "USE AND", e.g.

Muscle fiber	Aerobics
USE fiber	USE aerobic dance
AND muscle	OR aerobic training

All descriptors are displayed in upper case letters that allows for a clearer display. The vendors that provide access to SPORTDiscus are currently in the process of converting the descriptors to upper case.

Updates to the SIRCThesaurus are posted on a regular basis to the SIRC Indexing Web Board (<http://chat.sportquest.com/~sircindexing>) following each Thesaurus Committee meeting. A complete update incorporating all the additions since the previous edition will be generated on a yearly basis.

The cost for the SIRCThesaurus is 95 US$ for the pdf version and 149 US$ for the print version. For those interested in obtaining a copy, visit the SIRC website at <http://www.sportquest.com/products/index.html>.

SPORTDiscus

As of the July 2001 many changes can be found in the SPORTDiscus database and SIRC services.

Database Updates:

Updates will now be monthly for all formats, e.g. CD ROM, ERL servers and for all vendors

Contents:

The databases Heracles (from INSEP), Atlantes (SPORTCOM's Spanish language sport science records) and the library catalogue of the Olympic Museum (OL) have been merged with SPORTDiscus. There are now over 609,000 records in SPORTDiscus.

Additional topics and document types are also added. The topic of sports tourism will be added. The Journal of hospitality and leisure marketing is an example of a periodical that is being indexed. In addition, a body building and physical culture collection has been donated to SIRC. These books and periodicals will be indexed for the database in the coming year.

Note also that the contents holdings dates that now appear at the top of the search screen say 1830 – 2000/07. While the previous designation of 1975 to date indicated the date range of the preponderance of the records, 1830 is a more true statement of actual contents, e.g. Olympic Museums' rare book collection reports:

- Rapport sur l'état du gymnase normal, militaire et civil, a la fin du mois de juin 1830, Paris, De l'impr de Carpelet France, 1830.

The sport history indexing work being done by the Canadian contributor is exemplified by the book:

- Brown, R. Memorabilia curliana mabenensia. Dumfries, Scotland, John Sinclair, 1830.

For three fields in the SPORTDiscus record, new policies have been added or modified. They include:

- ITYPE: Two new document types have been added including: book reviews (R) and DVD (E).
- AB: Database users know that most advanced level records have full abstracts, as do some of the intermediate level records. To assist users further SIRC internal and external indexers are asked to include at least a one sentence abstract that describes the contents of each item record. Also a field has been added for the abstract in the German language (ABGE) (the database already has an English, French, Italian and Spanish language abstract field).
- SUB: All indexers submitting records to the SPORTDiscus are also requested to submit a list of personal names that are used in the descriptor field of their work. Only those personal names that do not yet appear in the current list need be submitted. In this manner, the list of personal names that is included in the SIRCThesaurus will be kept up to date.

With the new Cuadra Star inhouse database, the SIRC serials records and holdings information are being updated. When this project is finished the holdings records will be reported to the National Library of Canada, which will make the availability of sport information resources more widely known to the research community.

In a message dated August 2, Jean-Michel Johnson, Director, Indexing Services also announced that SIRC has started to index the journal, Gait & Posture. (Oxford: Butterworth-Heinemann, v1, 1993-, 6/yr)

Digitized Sport Resources

Digitizing sport history is continuing briskly at AAFLA. Two additional titles have been added to the already impressive lineup of fulltext sport resources Included are:

- MacAloon, John J. This great symbol: Pierre de Coubertin and the origins of the modern Olympic Games. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1981. 359 p.
- Iron game history
V1, no1, 1990 to date, ISSN 1069-7276, Bimonthly
Austin, TX: University of Texas at Austin: McLean Sport History

In addition, the scanning of the Olympic Review and Revue Olympique is ongoing. Olympic Review is now available fulltext from 1967-1998 and Revue Olympique from 1970 to 1998.

Access to individual articles and keywords in these fulltext resources is available via the search engine on the AAFLA website. However, it was learned recently, that as a result of discussions with the technical staff at the search engine Google (<http://www.google.com/>) adjustments have been made to the AAFLA files so that users can now search Google and find the citations to articles on the AAFLA website.

Also added to the AAFLA Research Reports collection available in fulltext is a recent publication:

AAF/ESPN Children and Sports Media Report. Westfield, NJ: Statistical Research, Inc., 2001. 168 p. (in PDF format)

This commissioned study conducted by Statistical Research is a national survey of children 8-17 examines what kind of exposure children have to sports through various media. Media types studied include TV, radio, in print, videogames, the Internet, sports movies, etc.

An Exchange Program for AAFLA and the Olympic Studies Center, Lausanne

Starting in September, Daniel Bell, Research Director at AAFLA will travel to Lausanne to work on collecting, storing and organizing electronic documents, creating finding tools for international games resources and working on NOC internet issues with the IOC Internet Group. In exchange, Evelynne Moosmann from the IOC Library will travel to Los Angeles to work at AAFLA on serials in paper and digital formats and become familiar with library procedures and work at AAFLA.

1.4 Other News Bites

Berkshire Reference Works

Karen Christensen, the guiding light behind BRW, mentioned that one of their recent publications, the International Encyclopedia of Women & Sports (3 vols., Macmillan Reference Library, 2000) has recently won the American Library Associations' RUSA Outstanding Reference Sources award for 2001. An ALA reviewer stated: "no other encyclopedia treats the field of women in international sports with such currency, depth and detail." This work has 130 biographies, articles on 170 individual and group sports, 75 country profiles and articles on cultural, health and social issues. Edited by Karen Christensen, Allen Guttman and Gertrude Pfister with contributions by many prominent sport researchers, this work contributes much to information resources on women and sport.

International Association for Sport Information

<http://www.iasi.org/>

The 11th World Congress of the International Association for Sports Information (IASI) took place from 25 to 27 April 2001 at the Olympic Museum in Lausanne, Switzerland. The Congress was hosted and organised by the Olympic Studies Centre (OSC) of the International Olympic Committee) and the Institute of Sport Sciences and Physical Education at the University of Lausanne. Prior to the Congress, on 22-24 April, IASI held its annual meeting. By acclamation of the IASI General Assembly, Mr. Alain Poncet, Chef du Service d'Information et de Documentation, Institut National du Sport et de l'Education Physique, (INSEP), France was elected President of IASI for 2001-2005. See the IASI website for access to the IASI Newsletter, No. 20, July 2001 (<http://www.iasi.org/>).

International Association of Sport Museums and Halls of Fame (IASMHF)

The next annual meeting of IASMHF will be held in Mobile, Alabama on 17-20 October 2001, hosted by the American Sport Art Museum and Archives, a division of the United States Sports Academy. The proposed schedule of events, accommodation information can be found on ASAMA website. See: <http://www.asama.org/iasmhf/iasmhf.htm>

Disability Sport Research Initiative

<http://www.sportinsociety.org/dsri.html>

Eli A. Wolff of the Disability Sport Research Initiative, at the Center for the Study of Sport in Society (Northeastern University in Boston) is interested in making contact with persons and institutions interested in research, advocacy and education in disability sport. (email: eliwolff@hotmail.com). He would like to centralize information resources on specific area and asks that interested persons contact him.

2.2 Scholarly Websites

The following websites have been recently found and added to Scholarly Sport Sites:

Free Medical Journals.com

<http://www.freemedicaljournals.com/>

The Sept. issue of Scout Report commended this website for attempting to bring order out of chaos regarding access to the "free" medical journal. Listed are over 800 medical titles categorized by the degree of access (e.g. free after one year, after two years, freely available upon publication, free trial) or by specialty. There are five sports medicine journals listed and many more under nutrition, physiology and physical therapy (actually one title here). Spanish and Portuguese journals are also listed separately. This site is connected to AMEDEO: the Medical Literature Guide (<http://www.amedeo.com/>).

Futbolero: the Academic Soccer Site

<http://www.people.ku.edu/~boroboy/futbolero/bibliography.html>

Matt Hayes, a graduate teaching assistant at the University of Kansas has created a soccer website that includes a list of recommended periodical articles, books and courses given at colleges and universities.

International Ethical Forum for the Analysis of Sport Technology (FAST)

<http://www.dmu.ac.uk/In/fast/>

This new website, hosted by De Montfort University, "seeks objective decision-making about the appropriateness of new innovations in sport" and invites governing bodies and other sport administrators and officials to inquire about and commission the independent advice of this consortium of academic experts. Topics that the FAST group will consider include genetic enhancement and engineering, sports equipment innovations, virtual systems for sport performance, methods of doping and drug taking. There are a number of articles on specific topics with links listed on the FAST website from 1999 to date. The topics include: fastskin, the fabric used in some current swimming suits, the chemical games, and newly designed tennis balls among others.

National Summit on Sport

<http://www.amateur-sport.gc.ca/>

Held in April 2001 the Canadian National Summit on Sport discussed sport policy in Canada. This website has PDF, Word or Wordperfect reports, discussion documents and submissions delivered to Summit participants.

Scholarly Sport Sites (SSS)

A new section has been added to SSS called What's New, to inform users of important changes, updates or reorganized sections on this website.

See <http://www.ucalgary.ca/library/ssportsite/whatsnew.html>

SPORTNZ Launched

<http://www.sportnz.co.nz/>

This new website launched by the Hilary Commission and Sporting Pulse Ltd., aims to provide sport specific organizations in New Zealand with a comprehensive website location to find the practical information on sport events, improve communication among national sports organizations and their players, administrators, coaches and volunteers.

Incorporated also will be information on how to run a club, guidelines for coaches, up to date results/news and links to team websites. Thirteen sports have signed up so far.

Benefits consists of less time taken by administrators to organize events and streamline their administrative tasks. For example, when an event or team information is entered, the software can automatically send emails to every registered player. It is hoped this website will improve the way sport is delivered to all levels.

SPRIG (Sport & Recreation Information Group)

On August 21, Martin Scarrott, Chairman of SPRIG announced the launch of the SPRIG website: <http://www.sprig.org.uk/> . An organization for UK librarians who have responsibilities for leisure, tourism and sport resources, this website has information on membership, events, workshops and meetings and their listserv. The HTFO section (How to Find Out) of the website has links to resources in hospitality management, sport nutrition, statistics and market research and tourism. Other subjects will be completed in the ensuing year.

2.4 Other Technological Activities

Image Searching

It was announced recently in the Scout Report that the search engine Google has mounted as a beta test, a new search engine to find images on the web. The Google Image Search <http://images.google.com/> will find all types of images through its search engine. A sample search done using the word "soccer" found over 17,000 images. On the results pages, each small image is shown, plus whether the image is a .gif, .jpg or other type of file, its size and the URL where it can be found. By clicking on the small image it is enlarged on a second screen. Google states on its home page that it has access to over 150 million images - a powerful tool indeed for the sports researcher!

3.0 PUBLICATIONS UPDATE

This list is compiled from cataloguing records created by the Library of Congress, British Library, National Library of Australia, National Library of Canada, OCLC's WorldCat, other current awareness lists and Amazon.com. Selection is made with academic and special sport library collections in mind and covers a wide range of material on physical education, the social sciences of sport, sport administration and sport sciences. Pre-publication records (CIP) are included if the expected publication date is within a few months.
